

Latin America, the local way

Lake Atitlan, Guatemala

Bliss out in the lakeside town of Panajachel and soak up the exquisite panoramas of Lake Atitlan against the backdrop of three volcanoes.

See trip on page 80

Granada, Nicaragua

With brightly painted buildings, spacious central plazas and a decidedly rustic air, one of Latin America's oldest cities is also one of its most atmospheric.

See trip on page 84

Galapagos Islands

Home to a bewilderingly friendly assortment of bird, mammal and ocean life, a voyage through the Galapagos Islands is a wildlife experience without equal.

See trip on page 39

Urubamba Valley

Hop aboard a train for a spellbinding rail journey through the winding loops and gullies of the Urubamba Valley – final destination: Machu Picchu.

See trip on page 17

Cuban homestay

Get an insight into everyday Cuban life on overnight homestays with local families. See what life is like in one of the last-standing communist regimes.

See trip on page 76

Georgetown, Guyana

A feisty fusion of Creole culture and Latin flair, Guyana's spirited capital is host to an eclectic bunch of jazz, reggae and dance clubs well worth seeking out.

See trip on page 28

Argentine fare

Treat the inner-foodie to succulent steaks, sapid salads, delectable deserts and world-renowned reds on our Real Food Adventure in Argentina.

See trip on page 32

Patagonia hiking

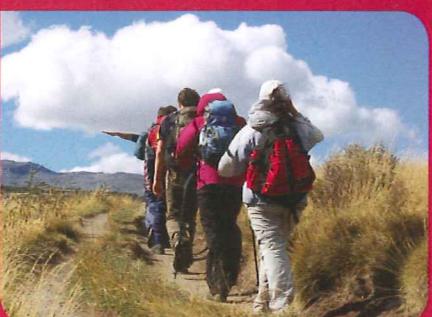

Lace up the hiking boots and leave the modern world behind for an impossibly spectacular journey through icy landscapes of staggering proportions.

See trip on page 34

It's all in the journey

Half the fun of travel is the travelling itself. That's why Intrepid adventures come with all manner of transport modes – from the slightly unusual to the downright bizarre! You could find yourself mixing it up with farmers and their animals on a local bus, cycling past sugar plantations or gliding over aquamarine waters in a yacht. No matter the mode, it's the getting around that's half of the fun!

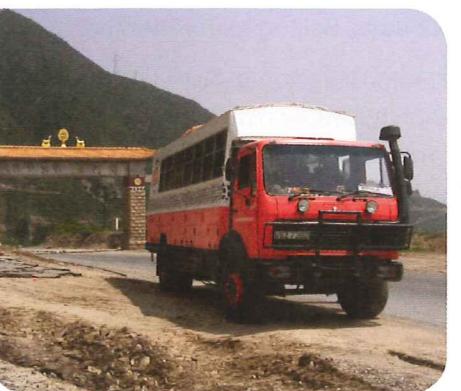

A room with a few

Where our weary travellers rest their heads each night is really important to us. Be it a family-run hotel, an Andean homestay or a Argentinean estancia, plenty of thought goes into each night's accommodation. Where we stay ensures we keep our travellers firmly entrenched in a region's people and culture, and provides them with unique local experiences that benefits the community too.

Peru, Lake Titicaca - Fern Williams

Overlanding Asia

Overland trips

KDOYC Beijing - Istanbul
96 days

KDOIC Bishkek - Ashgabat
30 days

KDOC Bishkek - Tashkent
16 days

KDOO Tashkent - Ashgabat
15 days (KDOH reverse)

CDOA Beijing - Xi'an
17 days (CDOB reverse)

TDOL Bangkok - Luang Prabang
18 days

CDOM Mongolia Overland
21 days

CDVA Kunming - Bangkok
30 days

HDOLC Kathmandu - Kathmandu
82 days

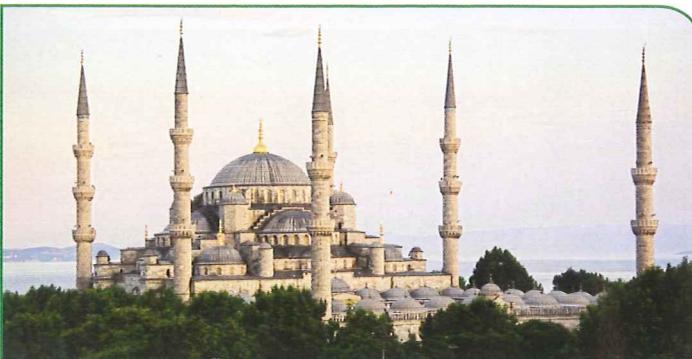

HDOTC Kathmandu - Mumbai
21 days

HDOB Mumbai - Chennai
24 days

HDOC Kolkata - Kathmandu
16 days

Many of our Overland trips in Asia are operated by our partners, Dragoman. Having been in the Overland travel game for over 30 years, they have the nous, know-how and, most importantly, a fleet of purpose-built vehicles to get you from A to B, both safely and on time. If there is a route you were after that you don't see here, check out dragoman.com as they could already be on to it.

Create your own Asian adventure from our wide range of Overland combinations. With all the big show-stoppers and plenty of hidden gems squeezed in-between, there's bound to be a trip that takes in all the parts of Asia you're wanting to see.

Beijing to Istanbul

96 days, Beijing to Istanbul

PHYSICAL RATING TRIP CODE KDOYC

CULTURAL RATING DEPARTS Selected Sundays

Get ready for a massive overland adventure from the metropolitan mammoth of Beijing to Istanbul's bustling bazaars. Travel through some of Asia's most remote, wild and unique wilderness along the legendary Silk Road from China. See Istanbul's famous Blue Mosque, pass through Kyrgyzstan's soaring mountain vistas, tour Xi'an's famous Terracotta Warriors and discover secluded sections of the snaking Great Wall of China. From Beijing to Baku and beyond, this adventure encompasses the very best of Central Asia and Turkey, with incredible food to boot. If you're longing for an epic overland odyssey away from the tourist crowds, Beijing to Istanbul is just for you.

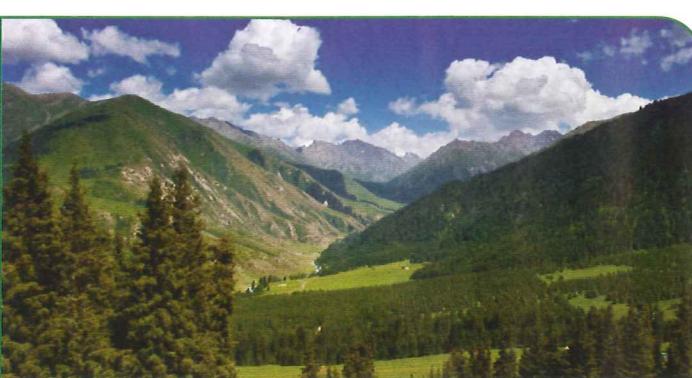

Bishkek to Ashgabat

30 days, Bishkek to Ashgabat

PHYSICAL RATING TRIP CODE KDOIC

CULTURAL RATING DEPARTS Selected Sundays

Follow the central Silk Road through Turkmenistan's harshly beautiful deserts, Uzbekistan's soaring minarets and Kyrgyzstan's sublime lakes. Travel to a land once home to brutal, yet sophisticated, khans and sultans, as well as the furthest reaches of the USSR. Along the way, this journey will have you watching local shepherds play goat polo in the mountains, uncovering Soviet memorabilia at bazaars and feasting on rich and delicious mutton in a Tashkent restaurant. Offering the bold traveller a startling vision of Central Asian culture, from the romantic charm of Samarkand to futuristic Ashgabat, your central Silk Road journey is an enlightening experience full of memories to last a lifetime.

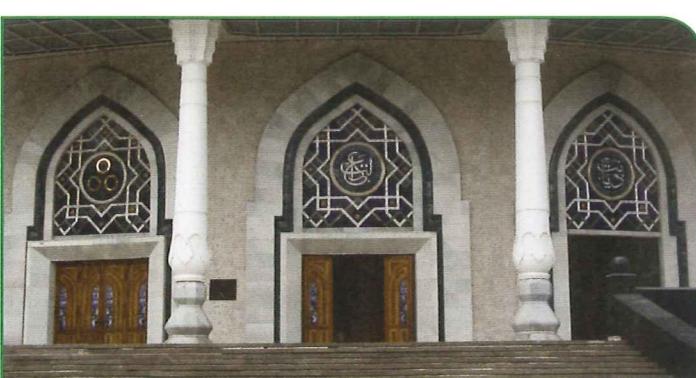

Mountain Kingdoms of Kyrgyzstan

16 days, Bishkek to Tashkent

PHYSICAL RATING TRIP CODE KDOC

CULTURAL RATING DEPARTS Selected Sundays

Leave the modern world behind on this challenging tour into Central Asia's mountainous hinterland. Beginning in Bishkek, journey across Chong Kemin and the imposing Kyrgyzstan mountains. From the high country, head through Jeti-Oghuz Valley, experiencing local life while at a homestay and exploring the lush pastures of the Fergana Valley before finally reaching Uzbekistan's quirky capital, Tashkent. Along the way, get acquainted with the ways of the nomads, be wowed by Kyrgyzstan's captivating landscapes and experience Tashkent's Soviet past. If an outside-of-the-box travel adventure through the 'Stans is what you're after, then this is it.

Tashkent to Ashgabat

15 days, Tashkent to Ashgabat

PHYSICAL RATING TRIP CODE KDOO

CULTURAL RATING DEPARTS Selected Mondays

Strategically positioned along the Silk Road, the cities of Samarkand, Bukhara and Khiva were famed trading centres for the caravans that passed this way in ancient times. On this Overland trip we follow in their footsteps, discovering magnificent architecture and lively bazaars that have changed little since the rule of Tamerlane. Stay with nomads in Uzbekistan's desert, explore the vast Amu Darya river, tour the wonders of Samarkand and head into the markets of Ashgabat to practise bargaining skills. Find yourself right in the heart of Central Asia on this spectacular trip that uncovers ancient cultural traditions and showcases the incredible history of this mighty region.

Moroccan cuisine

Sit down to spicy tajines, tantalisingly fresh seafood grills and numerous rounds of mint tea in the open-air dining spectacle of Marrakech's Djemaa el-Fna.

See trip on page 62

Algiers, Algeria

Be left spellbound by the haunting beauty of Algiers' World Heritage-listed kasbah on a guided tour through this alluring Algerian capital.

See trip on page 67

Sierra Leone

A stretch of golden coast totally free of crowds, Bureh Beach in Sierra Leone is the perfect place to hit the waves or log up some long, lazy beach hours.

See trip on page 55

Accra markets

Boasting a rich artistic heritage and highly acclaimed craftspeople, the markets of Ghana's lively capital are a goldmine awaiting the accomplished bargainer.

See trip on page 54

Namibia

Be held in thrall by the towering sand dunes of Sossusvlei, located in the world's oldest desert. Clamber to the top for astounding views.

See trip on page 50

Africa & the Middle East

It's all in the journey

Half the fun of travel is the travelling itself. That's why Intrepid adventures come with all manner of transport modes – from the slightly unusual to the downright bizarre! You could find yourself sailing in a dhow along the coast of Mozambique, searching the savanna in a 4x4 or striding across the desert atop a camel. No matter the mode, it's the getting around that's part of the adventure.

A room with a few

Where our weary travellers rest their heads each night is really important to us. Be it a family-run hotel, a beach hut in West Africa or a beehive in Swaziland, plenty of thought goes into each night's accommodation. Where we stay ensures we keep our travellers firmly entrenched in a region's people and culture, and provides them with unique local experiences that benefits the community too.

The Arctic

No guarantees of spotting Santa, but this icy wonderland is brimming with beluga whales, arctic foxes, walrus, polar bears and, of course, reindeer.

See trip on page 45

Moscow metro

Easily the world's most extravagant public transport system, no visit to Moscow is complete without a ride through this maze of marble and art.

See trip on page 58

Château Sainte-Sabine

Nestled on the banks of the Burgundy River, this magnificent 17th-century chateau is the perfect place to experience the French countryside.

See trip on page 41

Norwegian fjords cabin

Wake up in the shadow of Norway's legendary fjords, and be greeted by the sight of crisp mountain peaks and sheer valleys reflected in glassy waters.

See trip on page 43

Overnight train

Grab a bunk, sit back and journey past the desert scenery of Morocco, mingling with the locals and experiencing train travel Moroccan style.

See trip on page 30

Feluccas

There's nothing quite like sailing down the Nile on a felucca, watching local life unfold in front of you and following a journey that's been done for millennia.

See trip on page 76

Europe, the local way

It's all in the journey

Half the fun of travel is the travelling itself. That's why intrepid adventures come with all manner of transport modes – from the slightly unusual to the downright bizarre! You could find yourself mixing it up with commuters on a train, cycling past thousand-year-old chateaux or striding across the desert atop a camel. No matter the mode, it's the getting around that's half of the fun!

A room with a few

Where our weary travellers rest their heads each night is really important to us. Be it a family-run hotel, a hilltop monastery or a Bedouin camp, plenty of thought goes into each night's accommodation. Where we stay ensures we keep our travellers firmly entrenched in a region's people and culture, and provides them with unique local experiences that benefits the community too.